aldermen and councilmen as sembled in the council chamber to hear the message of the mayor. The message was as follows: To the Honorable General Council:

Your attention is called to the ordinance, passed on its first reading, en-tifled "an ordinance to provide for the collection of rents from occupants of the city's property." Also, to a communi-cation from the city tax-collector, ask-ing instructions in reference to the col-lection of the Brown mandamus tax on merchants. Also, to the ordinance authorizing the purchase of paving-stones, passed its first reading. Also, to the erdinance locating and defining the limits of the Bayou Gayoso. Also, to a communication from the secretary of different city organizations, asking that the city take some steps in reference to the proper celebration of our Centennial anniversary. There are also some petitions to be submitted in reference to assessments. Upon these matters I respectfully ask you to take some action, as a postponement will not only be attended with inconvenience, but with some damage to public and private interest.

J. R. FLIPPIN, Mayor The city attorney presented himself and desired to make a statement with reference to his opinion presented to the general council as to the fifty cents suniry mandamus tax on merchants' cap-

The message of the mayor, opinion of the city attorney, and resolution offered by Councilman Donovan as to the mater were read. This resolution, which asked for a committee of conference, was adopted by the council and was non-concurred in by the board of aldermen. The general council concluded that there was nothing to consider in joint session in the matter, it being a difference between both branches of the general council, and the joint session

THE COUNCIL. City-Attorney Walker offered in explanation of his opinion that a bill had been filed by Messrs. Brinkley and Les, property-owners, to enjoin the city from evying the fifty cents sundry mandamus tax on the one hundred dollars on real and personal property, unless it was levied also on merchants' capital; and the city attorney was of opinion that he legal position assumed by these parties enjoining will be sustained by the courts. The Brown fifty-four cents man-damus tax was ordered levied on merchants' capital by the Federal court, which was resisted by the merchants, and on the case being decided sgainst the merchants, an appeal was prayed for and granted, so that now the general council is not compelled to levy the Brown mandamus tax of fifty-four cents on the merchants' capital. The mandamus order of the Federal court having been superceded by the appeal taken by the merchants to the supreme court of the United States, the fiftycents sundry mandamus tax must be levied in order to collect the same tax from the owners of real estate and other property, as in the opinion of the city by the courts unless the ordinance is so construed that the same tax be levied on merchants' capital.

Councilman Donovan, of the second year, John Cosgrove, John Wendel, Councilman Donovan, of the second ward, opposed the position assumed by the city attorney. He favored a new assessment of the tax, for by so doing the tax on all property instead of being fifty cents would be thirty-nine cents. Many have paid thi sundry mandamus tax on real and , ersonal property, and this amount of surplus so paid must be refunded before it can be arranged satisfactorily. Let the real and personal property-owner and the merchant pay the same rate on this mandamus tax.

The resolution of Councilman Donovan, passed on this subject at a former meeting, was reconsidered. The ordinance authorizing the mayor to purchase three hundred and fifty carloads of paving-stone, to pave streets, fix gutters, etc., was read and considered Councilman Donovan advocated th position that advertisements for bids be made for this stone, and moved that the mayor be instructed to advertise for bids for twenty days, the city to reserve the right to reject any and all bids. The ordinance, with the above amend ment, was passed on its second and final reading. This amendment was non-concurred in by the aldermen, and then the council non-concurred, and stuck to the amendment. It was then agreed to advertise for ten days.

Another Joint Session. At the request of Mayor Flippin, an other joint session assembled in the council chamber. The mayor presented his message, stating that Alderman Fleming had tendered his resignation as a member from the tenth ward, and that a petition from certain citizens of Beale street, east of Hernando, had been presented, protesting against the acts of the Memphis City railroad company in laying down two iron rail tracks, thereby blocking the street and creating a nuisance.

COMMON COUNCIL. Councilman Neeley moved that the petition be read and referred to the committee on railroads and public improvements, which motion was carried. The secretaries of several societies inending to celebrate the Fourth of July, asked that the general council permit the use of Court square for a meeting. and that the city erect a stand for the use of speakers, etc. The use of the aquare was granted, but the city will not any such use of public money. City Tax-Collector Schaper, as to the fifty-four cents Brown Nicolson pavement mandamus tax and its levy by order of the general council, asked for further information and instruction. Councilman Neely offered a resolution instructing the tax-collector not to levy said tax on merchants, as an appeal taken superseded the mandamus order of the Federal court. The resolution

Morning.

Below will be found the list of delegates to the county Democratic and Con servative convention, which will be held at the Exposition building to-morrow. Three country districts are not heard from, nor could they be obtained by our reporter, after making diligent search throughout the city. No place was designated in the call of the executive committee for the primary-election idges to report, and the newspaper reporters had to pick up the lists wherever they could. This caused, necessarily, many inaccuracies to creep into the report. A place should have been designated where the complete list of delegates could have been reported, and have been procured by the reporters. The number of city-ward delegates is ninety-three, and the number of country-district delegates is sixty, the total number of delegates to the convention being one hundred and fifty-three. AMICABLY ADJUSTED.

The Moore-Schloss Difficulty, Which Originated at Tuscumbia, Alabams, in the Hands of Mutual Friends of the Parties,

The citizens of Tuscumbis, Alabams, have been considerably exercised for the past two weeks in regard to a pending personal difficulty between Major Jo-seph H. Sloss, editor of the Times and a former member of congress, and Mr. Burns Moore, a prominent lawyer. The difficultry grew out of politics. Mr. Moore delivered a speech severely criticising the Independents and the Republicans, which elicited a caustic reply from Major Sloss through the columns of the Times, and subsequent discussion resulted in a threatening demonstration on the street, and bloodshed was prevented only by the interference of mutual friends. Finally Major Sloss sent a note inviting Mr. Moore to Memphis, which was promptly accepted. The parties with their friends met in this city on Saturday last, and before a hostile correspondence was commenced, friends interfered and requested that the matters at variance be referred to Wil-Cooper, of Tuscumbia Colonel Edward A. O'Neil liam of Fiorence. The proposition was accepted, and all the parties will return for home this evening. The um-pites selected are gentlemen of the highest integrity; and in making their de-cision will scrupulously guard the honor of both gentlemen. Colonel M'Kernan was acting as the friend of Mr. Moore, and Colonel Steele as the friend of Mafor Slors. The decision of the referees is to be final, and we congratulate our friends on the happy termination of the
